2 Round 1: The Board

The board has six categories with five clues each, worth 100 to 500 points.

- The first pick is decided by a draw.
- After the clue is read, any team may buzz. The first team to buzz has 5 seconds to reply.
- A correct reply earns the tile's value. A wrong reply allows the other teams to then buzz.
- If no team answers correctly within 3 minutes, question is skipped.
- The next chance to pick goes to the next team in rotation regardless of who answered correctly.
- The round continues for 3 rotations.

3 Addition: Double Trouble Tiles

Two Double Trouble tile is hidden in Round 1 and three in Round 2.

- Only the team that picks a Double Trouble tile plays it.
- The team can choose to make the tile worth double the points, but anyone is allowed to buzz in and answer.

4 Rapid Fire

- The quizmaster goes to each team individually.
- A team has 2 minutes to answer as many questions as possible.
- 200 points awarded for each correct answer.

5 Round 2: The Board

Round 2 uses six new categories worth 200 to 1,000 points and follows the same rules as Round 1. It is played by the teams in the final stage, and the team with the lowest score picks first.

6 Final Commit

- The category is shown first, and each team writes a secret bet from 0 up to its full score.
- The clue is then shown, and teams have 30 seconds to write their reply.
- A correct reply wins the bet, and a wrong reply loses it.

- 5 questions are asked in this format.
- Final scores decide first, second and third place.
